

Online Conference

AI for Fundamental Rights at Work: Is the EC's Proposal on a European Approach to AI Up to It?

10 June 2021, h 14.00-18.00 CEST

@ Zoom

h 14.00 - Chair and Introduction: Vincenzo Pietrogiovanni, Lund University (Convener)

h 14.15 - Greetings: Marzia Barbera, Labour Law Community - LLC Jörgen Hettne, Lund University

h 14.30 - Session I: A European Approach to AI?

The AI Act and the Product Safety Paradigm: Adjustments Needed - Michael Veale, University College London

A Risk-Based Approach to AI Regulation - Guido Smorto, University of Palermo

The EU's Regulatory Proposal - AI Policy in the Making - Rosanna Fanni, CEPS & Brookings Institution

Theorising Occupational and Subjective AI - Phoebe V. Moore, University of Leicester

Anticipating Employer Resistance and Regulatory Arbitrage: A US Perspective - Frank Pasquale, Brooklyn Law School

h 15.45 - Debate + Break

h 16.30 - Session II: AI, Labour Law and the Proposal

On Discrimination and Privacy - Miriam Kullmann, WU Wien & Harvard University

Making AI Safe for Users... What About Workers? An OSH perspective - Aude Cefaliello, ETUI

A Potential Threat to Labour and Fundamental Rights - Valerio De Stefano, KU Leuven

h 17.15 - Discussant: Tonia Novitz, Bristol University

h 17.30 - Debate